A Capita Conference

Policing the Borders

Tuesday 23rd March 2010 – Central London

"Britain's border security controls are among the toughest in the world, and by using the latest technology we are continuing to improve our ability to ensure only legitimate travellers and goods enter Britain."

Phil Woolas, Minister of State for Borders and Immigration,
November 2009

Capita's 2nd Annual Policing the Borders Conference brings together key stakeholders to discuss the latest challenges, developments and improvements to the UK's extensive border security infrastructure and operations. The Government is committed to strengthening our borders and the Policing and Crime Act 2009 will enhance security planning at airports in the UK by improving inter-agency cooperation.

Bringing together small and large border crossing experience, learn from expert local, national and global speakers on best practice for addressing the ever-changing challenges facing border policing.

This must attend event covers the following key areas:

- National and European strategic developments
- Enhanced practices for maritime and aviation security
- Counter terrorism legislation and its impact
- Community engagement and threat recognition
- Freight and cargo awareness

Attend this important event to learn from national guidance and practical examples on how to realise effective deployment of resources to mitigate threats and risks associated with policing our borders.

Sponsorship and Exhibitor Opportunities

We offer a range of flexible packages which offer your organisation a platform to network and communicate with key organisations in the public sector.

For further information please contact Annette Purcell on 020 7202 0576 or email annette.purcell@capita.co.uk

About us

Capita Conferences is one of the UK's leading conference providers to the public sector. For over 15 years we have attracted diverse and cross-cutting audiences from across the police, education, central and local government, health and the voluntary sector to our events. We provide neutral forums for learning as well as excellent networking opportunities and the chance to provide feedback on policy direct to the highest levels. We pride ourselves on our thoroughly researched, incisive programmes and have secured speakers including leading politicians, Government ministers, senior civil servants, directors of charities, expert practitioners and renowned academics. We have built our reputation by working in partnership with, and on the advice of, key government departments, experts and pressure groups.

Benefits of Attending

- Hear from Frontex about how to solve cross-border challenges and create an integrated border control system
- Understand the national strategy for UK border policing with expert guidance from ACPO
- Learn how the police are engaging with communities to share information and improve public confidence
- Examine how new procedures and technology are helping identity authentication
- Take away practical guidance on how to work with maritime and aviation partners to effectively police small ports
- Discover how to effectively use border information as part of an intelligence gathering strategy
- Hear first hand about the challenges of policing one of the largest UK entry points and how public confidence is being improved
- Explore best practice for dealing with different carriers and small freight at ports
