Early Intervention for Troubled Families

Friday 28th June 2013 – Central London

About the Event

Capita's Early Intervention for Troubled Families Conference gives you a valuable insight into the important role of the newly formed Early Intervention Foundation and progress made in rolling out the national Troubled Families programme. With the publication of the Social Justice Strategy and the Social Justice Outcomes Framework in 2012 as well as the increasing focus on payment by results (PbR) to incentivise evidence-based services, this important conference provides a strategic and practical overview on designing services that prioritise prevention.

Bringing together leading policy makers and practitioners from pioneering local areas, this conference provides you with crucial guidance on implementing a solid outcomes framework to monitor the success of interventions and their cost-benefit.

Key topics to be covered at this event closely follow the priorities outlined in the cross-government troubled families agenda, including:

- Incentivising outcomes through payment by results schemes
- Commissioning integrated services that engage holistically with families
- Implementing evidence-based models and interventions
- Achieving the most effective use of data to facilitate information sharing across partner agencies

Do not miss this opportunity to hear best practice and learn how to effectively embed early intervention and prevention strategies across services to ensure positive outcomes for the whole family.

Benefits of Attending

- You will hear from the Department for Work and Pensions on evolving policy around the national Troubled Families programme and analysis of the Social Justice Outcomes Framework
- Gain advice on capturing, monitoring and measuring outcomes when delivering evidence-based interventions
- Explore successful approaches to raising achievement of vulnerable children by reducing barriers to learning and reducing referrals to specialist services
- Benefit from guidance on how to target services at those who need it most
- Understand how to work intensively with families to develop their parenting and life skills
- Be inspired by innovative partnerships between Children's Centres and health services that provide vulnerable families with a tailored package of support
