Tackling Honour Based Violence, Forced Marriage and Female Genital Mutilation

Wednesday 16th July 2014 – Central London

About the Event

Our Tackling Honour Based Violence (HBV), Forced Marriage (FM) and Female Genital Mutilation (FGM) Conference comes as forced marriage is criminalised in the Anti-social Behaviour, Crime and Policing Act and the government publishes its renewed action plan in A Call to End Violence against Women and Girls. Never has there been a more important time to come together in a multi-agency response to these critical issues.

Hear from the Minister for Crime Prevention and expert colleagues from police, health, local government, education, housing and the voluntary sector on driving forward partnership working to enable prevention, support and protection for victims and those at risk.

With current legislation under the spotlight, and with a focus on showcasing best practice, essential topics covered on the day include:

- Implementing the forced marriage legislation and assessing the impact on Forced Marriage Protection Orders (FMPOs)
- Removing the barriers that inhibit multi-agency working to enable early intervention and effective response strategies
- Developing secure support structures and future pathways for victims, vulnerable children and adults

Join experienced professionals from key agencies to benchmark your organisation against collective best practice and ensure that you are enabled to deliver effective, holistic services that safeguard vulnerable individuals.

Benefits of Attending

- Hear directly from the Minister for Crime Prevention on delivering the cross-departmental agenda to eradicate violence against women and girls
- Understand how the new legislation criminalising forced marriage will be enforced and how this can be used in tandem with FMPOs to increase choice for individuals
- Examine how to equip the health workforce with the knowledge to identify FGM and report into clear structures that eliminate the opportunity for delay and ensures accountability for successful outcomes
- Discover how ACPO and the Metropolitan Police Service are strengthening the police response to HBV, FM and FGM
- Gain transferable advice from a local authority panel that has overcome barriers to information sharing
- Explore how a college is raising awareness and safeguarding students against HBV, FM and FGM
